Development Aid Support/Knowledge For Development Without Borders www.developmentaidsupport.org

Development Aid Support/Knowledge for Development Without Borders (KFDWB) is an NGO, based in Vienna, Austria, whose mission is to identify current development issues and development best practices on the ground and to make this knowledge available to development organisations and local and national responsible bodies in order to highlight and alleviate the problems at a community level.

2 Why do we think that a new program like Knowledge for Development Without Borders is so important?

We have all witnessed or been part of the failure of some Millennium Development (MDGs) Goals to achieve their assigned objectives. We believe that knowledge for development need to be transmitted free of any costs, equally across the world, for the benefit of mankind and life. Due to the lack to access to a coordinated database that has accurate information and knowledge, the effectiveness of decision makers interventions may be limited. A knowledge database and a reporting system on the ground would act to close the existing gap. Our organization, which is made up of volunteers worldwide, is able to report negative and positive development issues. The efforts of development agencies, NGOs, private and public institutions and local and central governments will be positively enhanced when they receive accurate information, knowledge and feedback in real time for better decision making and timely intervention.

3 Citizen participation in Development Aid Support

We have all witnessed or been part of the failure of some Millennium Development (MDGs) Goals to achieve their assigned objectives. Local communities may be engaged more in the reporting of the economic, social and environmental problems they are facing so that development engagements, interventions and resources must be efficiency targeted and focused. Development Aid Support gives worldwide everyone this chance to participate in the reporting of the economic, social and environmental problems that local communities are facing so that development engagements, interventions and resources must be efficiency targeted and focused into the socio-cultural context requirements and the minimum human existence needs in each corner of our globe worldwide. Please join the Development Aid Support project and do this. It's in the advantage of the social, economic, environmental well-being of our local people.

4 Worldwide project based on volunteerism

Please complete the Development Aid Support - KFDWB Volunteer Membership Form on our official website to join us as a volunteer. A volunteer is a person who can let us know of the situation on the ground. We will work directly with you and help solve the problems that you or your community are facing. We do this by interfacing on your behalf with local governments and international aid organisations about your situation and your request for financial and technical support.

Anyone can become a volunteer. We ask volunteers to share this website in their social networks in order to help others around the world to identify their development issues and/or development best practices on the ground. With your permission we will provide your details on our website, which will include your name, city, country, website links and email. The form on our official website provides a mandatory YES/NO button for your agreement for us to use your details. We will respect your decision for privacy at all times.
