GCOM MAYORS' FORUM OF LATIN AMERICA

WHAT IS THE MAYORS' FORUM?

The Forum brings together mayors from 13 municipalities committed to GCoM, from eight Latin American countries, who stand out for their work and commitment to climate change. The objective is to strengthen the voice and vision of cities in the Pact's support strategy and priorities in Latin America. Members act as spokespersons for the GCOM community in Latin America, giving greater visibility to the climate action commitments of signatory municipalities.

HOW DO MEMBERS OF THE FORUM ACT?

They represent the Latin American municipalities of the GCoM in regional and international climate agenda events.

They strengthen the visibility of local climate action in their countries and in Latin America through campaigns, meetings, and exchanges between cities, as well as through presence in various media outlets.

They contribute to defining the strategy of the GCoM in Latin America and globally by promoting municipal priorities and advocating with financial and cooperation organizations.
