The incumbent may be re-assigned to different activities and/or duty stations depending on the evolving needs of the Organization.

Organizational Setting

The Forest Economics, Policy and Products Division leads FAO's work on the development of effective forest policies, governance and institutions and provides leadership for the social and economic dimensions of forestry, including the contributions to poverty reduction and food security and nutrition. It liaises with member countries, civil society and the private sector in aspects ranging from National Forest Programmes to sustainable forest industries and forest products promotion. The Division is also concerned with the collection, analysis and dissemination of information on the production, trade and consumption of wood and non-wood forest products.

The FAO Forest Law Enforcement, Governance and Trade (FLEGT) Programme is seated within FOE and has the objective of supporting stakeholders in eligible countries to address their locally defined FLEGT related issues.

The post is located in FAO Headquarters, Rome, Italy

Reporting Lines

The Forestry Officer reports to the EU FAO FLEGT Programme Manager (www.fao.org/forestry/eu-fao-flegt) under the overall supervision of the Director of the Forest Economics, Policy and Products Division.

Technical Focus

Identify, manage and implement initiatives that support increased private sector participation in the FLEGT process in countries eligible to the programme.

Key Result

Support the planning, development and implementation of the FLEGT Programme objectives in accordance with Departmental/Division objectives and FAO Strategic Objectives

Specific functions

- Conduct country level assessment and stock taking of past and current private sector support initiatives under FLEGT-related programmes and assess domestic market dynamics, barriers to formal production and possible incentives for legal production within the informal forest-related sectors;
- Based on the assessment results, develop a programme wide strategic plan to support greater inclusion of the private sector in FLEGT processes;
- Support partnership and network building with and among private sector organizations (including associations representing trade, producers, processors and landowners) and other organizations interested in supporting private sector activities in forestry;
- Liaise with governments, European Union Delegations and with FAO Representations for the efficient implementation of projects and improved legality of timber and timber products on domestic and international markets;
- Develop strategies to increase opportunities for Small and Medium Enterprises, women, indigenous peoples and other vulnerable segments of society to contribute to improving legality with the forest sector;
- Organize learning opportunities for the private sector, including through the development of training modules and seminars;
- Promote as appropriate linkages between forest certification schemes and Voluntary Partnership Agreements or other country-led processes to assure legality and traceability of timber and timber products;
- Develop and organize business fora (including business to business and south-south exchange opportunities) that support dialogue and understanding of legality requirements in countries participating in the programme;
- Support stakeholder participatory processes to develop policy and regulatory frameworks that promote equitable access and inclusion of Small and Medium Enterprises in legal timber production, supply chains and trade;
- Perform other duties as required.
