

Programming/Joint Programming

Felix Fernandez-Shaw (HoD EEAS.VI.B2)
Policy Forum on Development , Brussels 2nd October 2014

Programming

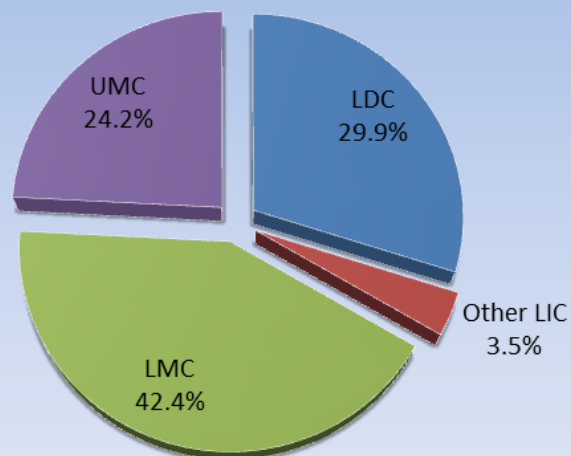

- "Agenda for Change" translated into strategic objectives for partner countries and regions
- A holistic approach taking into account all stakeholders

Key principles (AfC)

- Graduation
- Differentiation
- Concentration
- 2 priority areas:
 - human rights, democracy and other aspects of good governance
 - inclusive and sustainable growth

Main overall results

DCI - Total National Allocations per type of country (%) 2007-2013 - All Regions

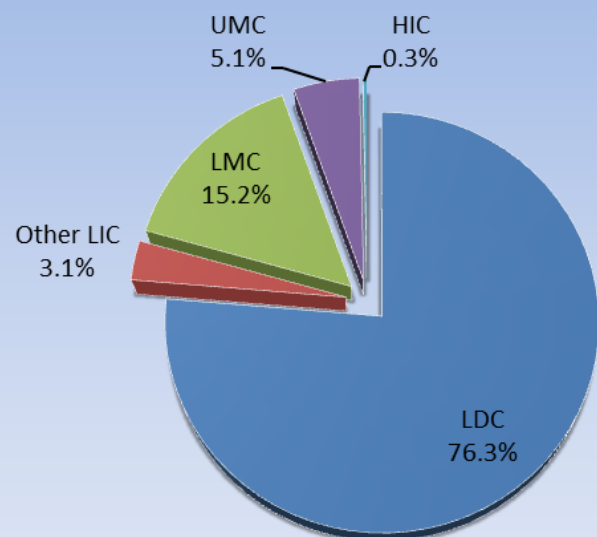

DCI - Total National Allocations per type of country (%) 2014-2020 - All Regions

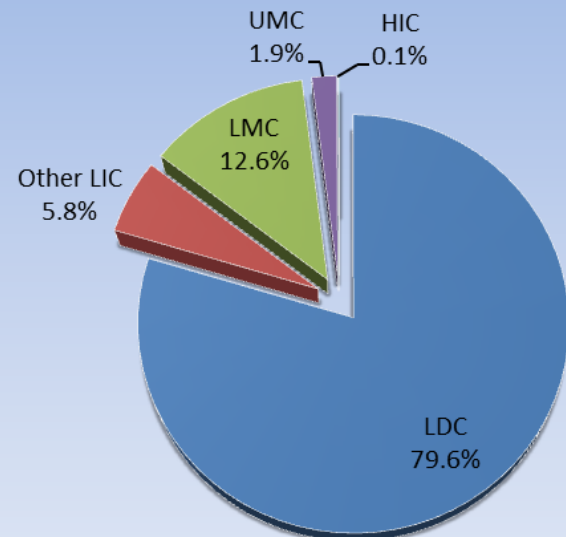

Main overall results

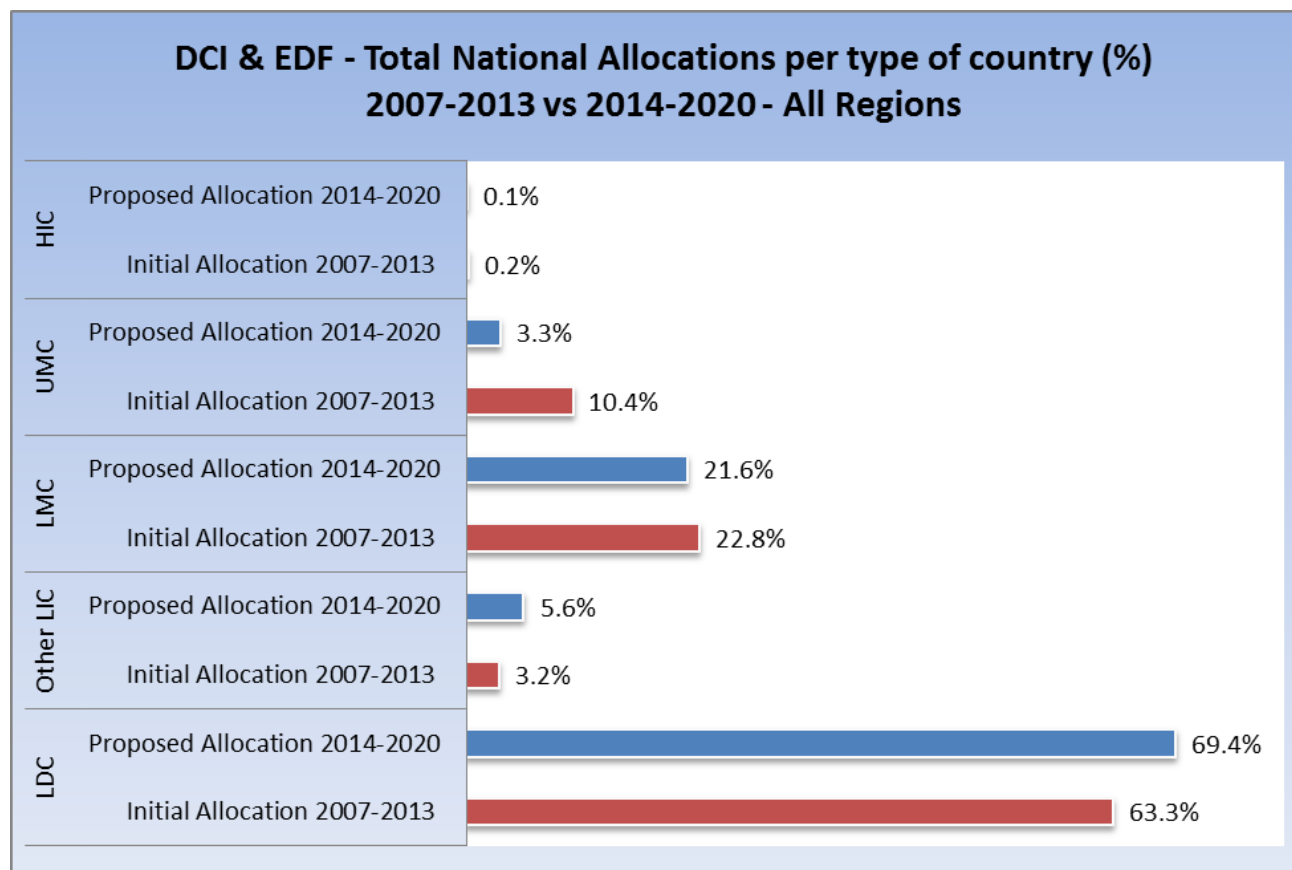

EDF - Total National Allocations per type of country (%) 2007-2013 - All Regions

EDF - Total National Allocations per type of country (%) 2014-2020 - All Regions

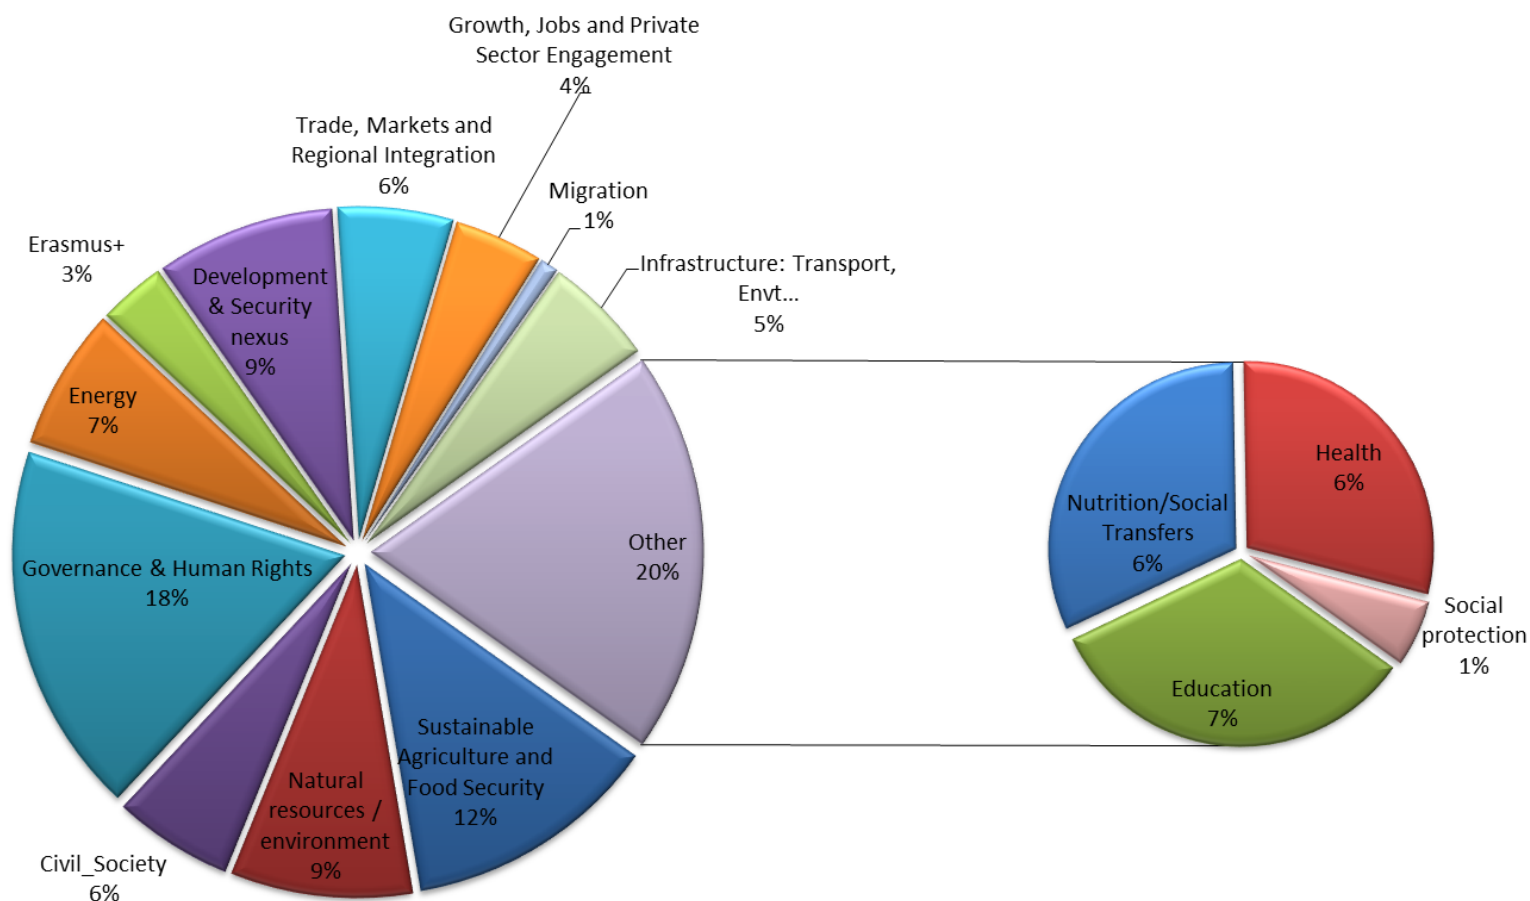

Main overall results

Main overall results

(All) Initial Allocations per Sector (%) 2014-2020 - All Programmes

Joint Programming concept:

Single multi-annual country strategy of EU and MS

Council Conclusions November 2011

- 1. Joint analysis of and joint response to partner country's development strategy
2. Identification of sectors of intervention and in-country division of labour: who is working in which sectors
- 3. Indicative multi-annual financial allocations per sector and donor

Principles:

- 1. In-country process led by EU Delegations and MS embassies
 - 2. Alignment and synchronisation with partner country planning
 - 3. Gradual approach
-

Joint Programming: why?

- Response to global realities of increased relevance of non-traditional donors and economic/financial crisis
- Increased EU political influence, impact and visibility
- Complying with our aid effectiveness commitments
- Medium-term cost savings for our partners and for EU and MS

Potential in Mozambique

(source aid data OECD/DAC 2011)

when EU acts as one ...

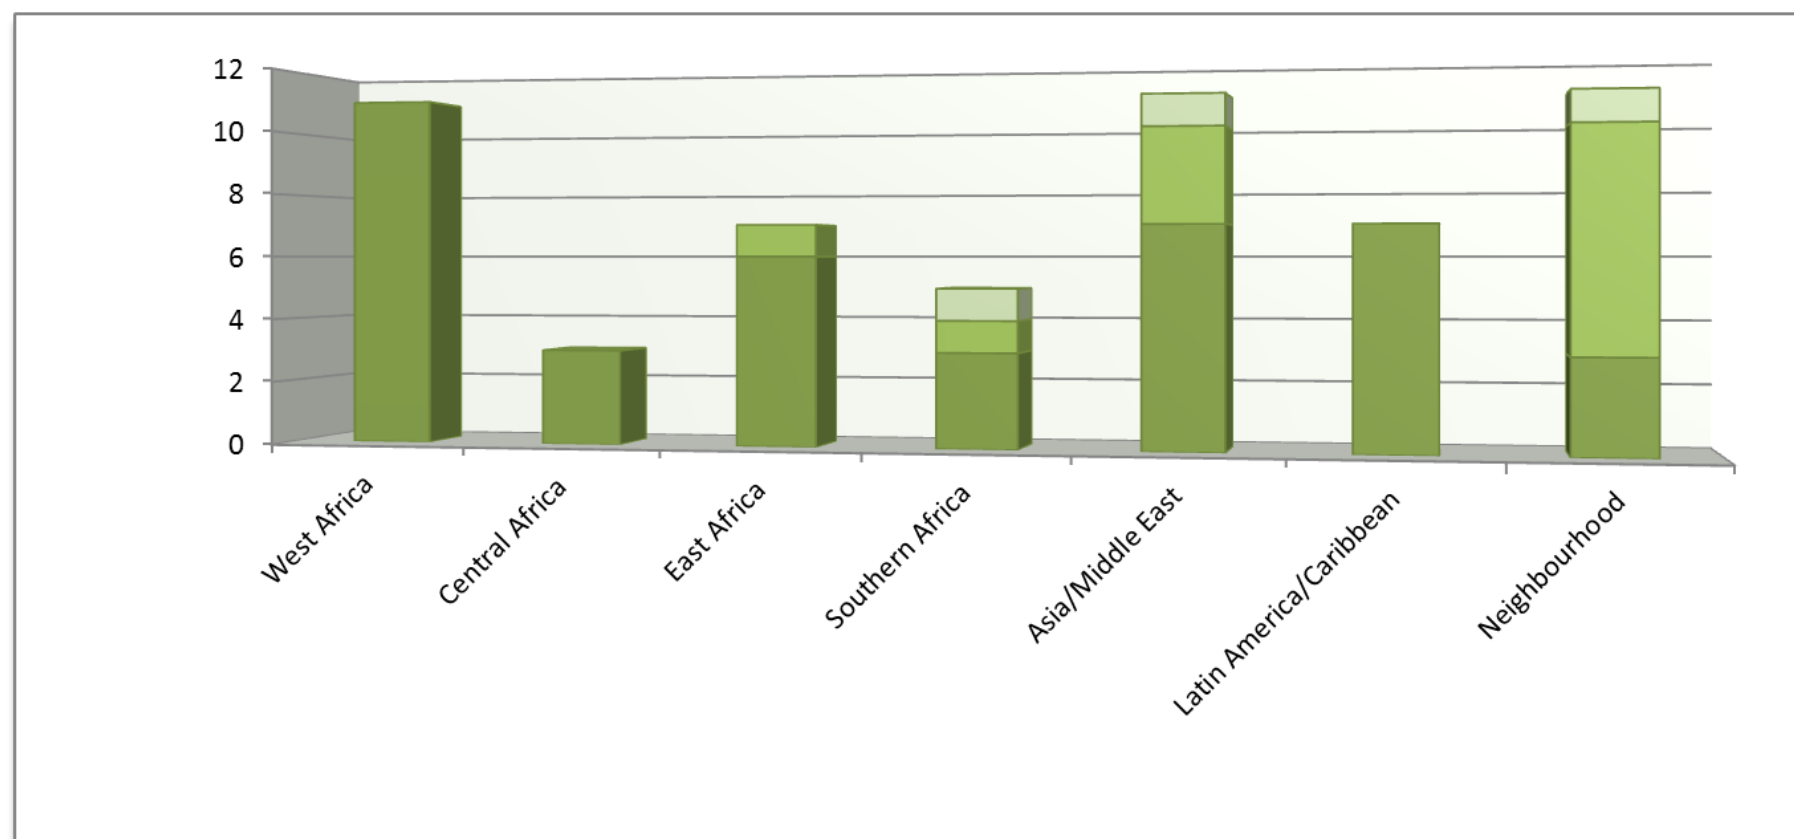

In-country progress (55 potential)

- 11 Joint Programming documents agreed:
 - Burma/Myanmar, Cambodia, Chad, Ghana, Guatemala, Laos, Namibia, Rwanda, Senegal, South Sudan, Togo
- 3 Joint analysis/response strategies agreed:
 - Bolivia, Ethiopia, Cote d'Ivoire
- 5 additional Joint Programming documents by end 2014:
 - Burundi, Comoros, Mali, Paraguay, Kenya
- 20 countries expected by 2015-2017
- 16 countries to be further analysed
- Quality of documents has improved:
 - better analysis, increased division of labour, inclusion of indicative allocations, first move towards joint implementation, results frameworks and monitoring

Regional breakdown

Dark green = Joint programming agreed
Middle dark = Potential, but not agreed yet
Light green = No Joint Programming at this stage

Country type breakdown

The way forward

1. Focus on actual implementation by EU and MS; from Mexico Communiqué:
 - Promoting the extension of joint programming processes to more partner countries and other development partners to make full use of its potential, with a view to having joint programming processes operational in 40 or more partner countries by 2017;
 - EU guidance issued by the end of 2014 and regional seminars on joint programming held in five regions by mid-2015.
2. Keep political momentum in EU and MS at Council, EU Directors General, Technical Seminars, Regional Workshops

Regional Joint Programming workshops

- Objectives: update from HQ; guidance; exchange experiences; address local challenges; identify good practice and support needed
- Target group: EU Delegations and MS embassies (HoCs); also participation of EEAS, Commission and MS HQs
- Organisation: EEAS & Commission Joint Programming & geographical teams with hosting EU Delegations + MS
- Planning:
 - Latin America, Guatemala, 20-21 January 2014 (support: Spain)
 - Central, East & Southern Africa, Ethiopia, 13-14 March 2014 (support: Belgium and the Netherlands)
 - West Africa, Ivory Coast, 4-5 June 2014 (support: France)
 - Asia, Myanmar/Burma, March 2015 (support: Germany)
 - Neighbourhood, venue, date and support TBD

Thank You

