 EC/EEAS GROUP: Evaluation Correspondents Network
Group created on July 16 2013
Show more details

The Evaluation Correspondents Network is a semi-closed group on the capacity4dev.eu online community. The content and information shared is accessible to all EC/EEAS staff, but only the Evaluation Correspondents are entitled to be full members.

The group aims at gathering and make available information and good practices about evaluations and the conduct of evaluations as well as to create an environment to share and discuss evaluation-related topics. This in order to draw lessons on our experience and thus make evaluations more useful, timely and of good quality.

The Evaluation Correspondents Network is intended as a meeting point and knowledge sharing platform for evaluation

 PRIVATE GROUP: Learn4dev
Group created on July 24 2013
Show more details

Learn4dev is a joint competence development network, we link bilateral and multilateral organisations that are committed to more effective and harmonised development aid. We help organisations offer training and share knowledge on ways to strengthen competences and achieve optimal results. Our members provide their expertise through training and dialogue in key areas of international development.

Focus areas

- Efficient networking in the field of competence development and training for all staff categories.
- Enhanced and efficient joint training of staff at headquarters and on country level. Members are given information on and access to the training programmes.
- Advanced and competent co-operation in the field of e-learning and IT-based knowledge sharing.

Here is the Evaluation Report... so now what do we do?

When we talk about evaluation, we often focus on its approaches and methods, how to undertake an evaluation, and the report. This is all very good and useful, but it is not the whole story. Evaluation is essentially part of a wider process of learning.

Erasmus+ and Erasmus Mundus: Opening up Universities to the World

"We see Erasmus Mundus as an opportunity to communicate, to learn and to exchange experiences and knowhow with regions outside the European Borders and this is very enriching," said Bárbara Costa, Director of the International Office at the University of Porto. Find out how the Erasmus programme is helping development around the world.

Agriculture's Data Revolution

"If we can replace the hand hoe with a smartphone as the most common tool in the hands of an African farmer, then we are halfway towards our dream," said Theo de Jager. That dream is to combat poverty in Africa by helping growers make the most of increasingly abundant data on prices, materials and weather.

Health via Healthy Roads

It may seem curious to begin the fourth thematic month of the European Year for Development on Health by talking about roads, but as experience in Ethiopia has shown, improving transport infrastructure can make a big difference to people's well-being.
