

M4.HO1.- Bulding pathways of influence on duty-bearer stakeholders and relevant key stakeholders

Delivering aid (to get access or to achieve other protection results...)

Mobilizing other key stakeholders to convince d-b stakeholders about the need to take action:

Talking to others to address d-b stakeholders about specific issues; Gathering clout and momentum, Building networks, collaborations, partnerships, alliances, joint activities (like field visits, etc.)

Direct engagement with duty-bearer stakeholders: attitude, knowledge, attitude and (specially) behaviour:

Advocacy ...

Building relationships/confidence with d-b stakeholders

Informing, letting them know...

Putting an item in the agenda (saliency)

Meeting them, writing to them, addressing them in a confidential way

Making it possible that primary stakeholders get access to authorities and due response from them:

Promoting that relevant d-b stakeholders meet primary stakeholders.

Promoting negotiations and agreements about relevant protection issues.

Getting external observers/supervisors to overview the agreements/decisions made

Follow up commissions in relation to agreements.

Holistic case management:

SGBV case load

Vulnerable groups cases

Defining / getting approved procedures, policies, law: structural ways of addressing a protection problem:

Creating new procedures, policies or law

Or amending existing ones, or improving their implementation (gap)

Or stopping its application

New knowledge produced:

Information gathering

Fact finding

Documenting, presenting evidence

Presentation of research findings

Public dissemination of information for creating public will and mobilization of shame

(if d-b stakeh. are affected by this) (risks attached!)

Reports,

access to media,

campaigns,

Donors and related keystoneholders:

Protection needs and processes: Raising awareness among donors and related keystoneholders (new, more and more diversified donors)

Primary stakeholders: vulnerabilities and capacities:

Improving AKAB...

Focus on organizational capacities (social cohesion, context assessment, participatory and quick decision making, internal structures, awareness of legal rights, etc.)

Getting access to external resources and key stakeholder ready to support them. Networking.

Increasing the capacity to undertake legal processes and joint actions.

Collective action, self protection activities (place, territory)
