

STEVEN ARIONG.

DAILY MONITOR JOURNALIST BASED IN Karamoja region.

RETURN-TO-WORK PLANS

Return to Work projects is a valuable mechanism for workshop participants' personal and professional development. As part of your sponsorship, you are required to develop a return-to-work plan on a project you will undertake on your return, applying the knowledge and skills gained from workshop to influence change.

Periodic follow-up on the progress of implementation of the plan will be undertaken by UNDP.

I. REPORTING STRUCTURE FOR RETURN-TO-WORK PLANS

To facilitate ease of reporting and follow-up on your return to work project, the structure below outlines the key project elements that need to be covered in the reporting. Please submit a Return to Work Project (RWP) using the structure provided below.

prevention of Environmental degradation, which is heavily affecting the eco system of Katikekile, Karita, Kacherer in Moroto, Nakapiripirit and Amudat district.

Objectives :

1. To interact with community especially the mining community on how to promote environment, community, health and safety priorities in the mining sites.
- 2.

Explanation of activities

Expected Outcomes:

1. Stories affecting women and children in the mining sector published.
2. Policy makers are informed on the issues at the mining sites.

Expected Outputs:

1. To have an interaction with women and publish their demands so that government and other development agency can take action.
2. I identify the problems that the children involved on child labour in the mining face and publish them.

Please describe how you plan to implement the return to work project: (outline key partnerships and collaborations across sectors in your country as well as any joint collaboration with other countries)

As a media person I will ensure that I will work closely with environment and natural resource officers, District Community Development Officer (DCDO) at the district level, and sub county leadership for both sub counties.

What indicators of success will you employ? (include indicators of success that go beyond activity-level implementation)

Poor hygiene in the mining.

Advocate for more pit latrines and other health services at the mining through profile writing of mining communities and publish them.

What aspects of the training will be most useful in implementing your project? Explain

That training was so wonderful and as a media person I gain a lot and here are my focus of writing and publishing, Environment conservation.

In my writing I have to highlight the need by any investor to consider environment must not be affected and if so replanting trees must be observed for eco system mining.

Another my area of focus will be Community health and safety–During the course of project implementation the emphasis will also geared towards to the community safety measures

What are your future plans? (Include any additional capacity building needs for your professional development that you have identified during the course of the workshop)

Budgeting for gender sensitivity and Resource mobilization
