Italian Agency for Development Cooperation

AICS and its role

AICS - the Italian Agency for Cooperation and Development - is one of key innovations established by the Italian law on international cooperation.

The Agency began operating in January 2016, with the aim of aligning Italy with its principal European and global partners in the endeavor of development.

Its basic model reflects that used in the main European countries, and it must comply with the demand for more professional and innovative forms of cooperation, involving the methodological flexibility necessary in a continuously evolving scenario.

IATI and our commitment to transparency

Transparency is a main goal for Aics and we are working on this point since the agency began operating. Joining IATI was an important step in this direction.

REACHED TARGET:

- ✓ March 2017 AICS joined IATI's accession procedure
- ✓ Since then AICS already published:
 - In June 2017, First organizational chart and budget data 2016-2018 with a break down for partner countries
 - October 2017, first activities dataset of «pilot case» Ethiopia
 - February 2018, activities datasets of 14 countries
