The 1st Forum of the GMES and Africa (www.au.int/en/GMESAfrica) has kicked off in the Gabonese capital, Libreville. More than 400 delegates from Africa, Europe and other parts of the world have gathered to discuss new and innovative Earth Observation technologies supporting Africa's socio-economic development. Organized jointly by the African Union Commission and the government of Gabon, the Forum is the first gathering of all stakeholders involved in the GMES and Africa programme. The programme was jointly launched in 2016 by the African Union and the European Union to strengthen Africa's capacity for the optimal exploitation of Earth Observation systems, data and technologies.

Nov 20, 2018

Le 1er Forum Continental de GMES et Afrique (www.au.int/en/GMESAfrica) a eu lieu dans la capitale Gabonaise, Libreville, où plus de 400 délégations d'Afrique, d'Europe et d'autres parties du monde se sont réunies pour discuter des nouvelles technologies innovantes dans le domaine de l'observation de la Terre pour un appui au développement socio-économique de l'Afrique. Le Forum organisé de concert par la Commission de l'Union Africaine et le Gouvernement de la République du Gabon, est la convergence initiale de toutes les parties prenantes impliquées dans GMES et Afrique. Le programme a été lancé conjointement en 2016 par l'Union Africaine et l'Union Européenne pour renforcer les capacités en Afrique pour l'exploitation optimale des systèmes, des données et des technologies d'observation de la Terre
