

- 1. What might be the concrete role for external stakeholders (other than governments) in building, maintaining and strengthening social protection systems in contexts of fragility and forced displacement?

- 2. What are the three key measures/strategies that may be needed to better align humanitarian and social protection responses for short, medium and longer-term outcomes for the poor and vulnerable?

- 3. Political-economy plays a big role in strengthening the nexus. What incentives may exist/or may be created to strengthen inter-ministerial/departmental programming and coordination?
